BREAKING AWAY AND GOING WILD

At the beginning of the school year we found that many personal molds had been broken. We saw different sides of our friends that had never been seen before. We saw the maturity and compassion break through and fill the school with warmth and fun filled happiness.

Even though the summer had ended, the fun lives on in our hearts and minds. Because the heat persisted and everyone wore shorts until the middle of September, the summer's end blues lasted on. Now it's time to get our minds off of the beach and back into the classroom. Many think school is all work and no fun, but in just a few months everyone got back into the swing of things and began to add pizazz to their classes and had a great time.

This year as most of the preceding ones, we have broken in freshmen and new teachers. This is very tough, because they all have a tough time trying to both fit in and find their way around our grand campus. Almost all of these problems are usually overcome within a couple of days, but for a select few it may take weeks or even months.

No matter what is happening or when it is, students are always ready for something new and exciting. As do most teenage students, we at Graham enjoy good-clean-fun, but there are times when everyone likes to break away and go wild!

At a Friday night football game, Jeanne Mussell's friends find that she has mastered the fine art of gossip.

"What A Hunk!" says Anita Graves as she gives a big smile to another guest during the Family Life mock wedding.

"Whatta Face!" says Tony Dilello as Kit Joye tries to grin and bear it.

Playing fetch isn't a very competitive game, but Butter finds it hard to beat Steve Rimmer.

"It's not easy being a sex symbol," says Amy Brown as Jacinta Cheek listens to her past weekend adventures.

Taking a break from classes at Annual Camp on the UNC campus, Sarah Knight goes wild and attacks James Wilson in a major tickle fight.

HERE COMES FRIDAY

What did Graham students look forward to? Break? Lunch? 3:10? Mostly we looked forward to Friday! How many times did we say "Thank God it's Friday?"

Friday meant a lot of different things. First, it meant a vocabulary test in English to most people. Second, it meant that the day was going to seem about two months long, but eventually 3:10 came and we all broke loose. Friday night meant dates, sporting events, and partying all night.

The best thing about Friday was that we knew we'd have two days of freedom until we had to return to Red Devil Country.

To all Graham High Students, Friday is a day to celebrate and just have fun.

Our G.H.S. Band shows a lot of enthusiasm during the Friday night football games. Mr. Albea watches his band with Pride.

A LOOK AT YESTERDAY

Last years seniors can't be compared. As the Senior class of 1986 marched down the isle for the last time the auditorium was filled with sadness, happiness and accomplishment. For seniors, this was a very important time to begin to decide on your future. Do I want to go to college? What do I want to do? Who do I want to be? Do I want to start a family? With all these questions your whole life begins to change. The sadness begins with your friends. For many you will never see again, others only on the weekend or during breaks at college. Then there are all the new friends you had made. There is always something to look forward to in life.

The happiness of getting the chance to be with all of your friends together for the last time, or until your class reunion, you are happy because it's all over for high school, you are beginning to be a young adult. Everyone is happy to start their new life. Last of all, there is a great sense of accomplishment. Now that you have reached a goal, you begin to start a whole new life for yourself.

Without the help of the top ten Juniors through the graduation ceremony and reception would not have been as successful. With their assistance in handing our programs, taking up tickets, helping the people find a seat and escorting the senior and they were kept busy and exasperated. The Seniors were very thankful. Another important person to remember is the Senior Class Advisor, Mrs. Stockard. Mrs. Stockard has put up with Seniors for six years by representing them as their Senior Class Advisor. Without her intelligence and organization the Seniors would not have had as much fun as they did last year. She gives rising Seniors something to look forward to.

These finally graduated seniors are excited about their trip to Myrtle Beach.

The parents and family of Kelly Cummings seem just as happy for "their boy" as he is for himself.

BREAKIN' IN ROYALTY

The week of Homecoming was an exciting time for everyone. There were banners to be made and votes to be counted. Everyone wanted to know who our new Homecoming King and Queen were going to be.

On Tuesday we had Jam Day, Wednesday, was Sweatshirt Day, Thursday, Dress Up Day and finally Friday, Red and Black Day.

The pep rally on Friday was a big spirit booster. The cheerleaders had some really cute dance routines. There was a pie throwing contest and Glen Spencer was the lucky one that got the pie in the face. The big moment came when David Bell was crowned Homecoming King.

All the banners this year had to do with the Homecoming theme, "Puttin' on the Blitz." There was a lot of competition and all the banners were great but a winner had to be chosen. The Sophomore Class won the banner competition and National Honor Society and Future Homemakers of America tied for first place in the club competition.

At five everyone could be found on Main Street watching the parade. The band lead the parade, followed by the cheerleaders and then all the club sponsors. Last but not least came the Queen's Court in a classy Excalibur.

Friday night came finally and people crowded in the football stadium to watch Graham play Eastern Randolph. The game didn't turn out as well as everyone hoped but the football team tried their very best.

Halftime was very exciting though. The Queen's Court consisting of Pam Foriest escorted by Rod Carter, Kit Joye escorted by Steve Isley and Sherry Tate escorted by Ken Costner. Finally Mr. Dixon escorted last years Queen, Jan Nall, onto the field and Kit Joye was crowned the 1986 Homecoming Queen.

The 1986 Graham High Homecoming was a lot of work. It had its ups and downs. Everyone seemed to have a great time.

Everyone did a great job on banners. The sophomore class must have done an exceptional job because they won the banner competition

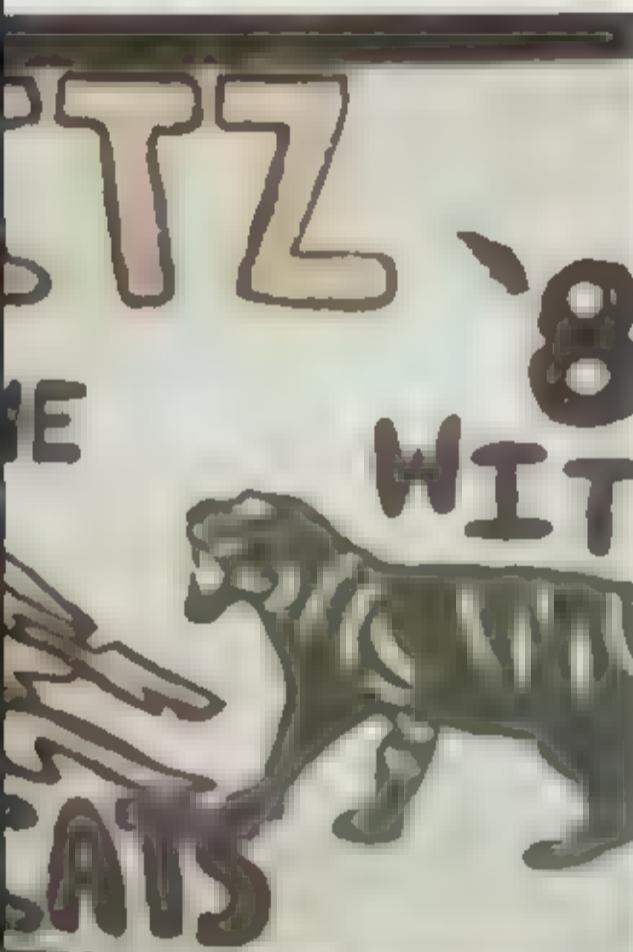

As in the past, the stadium was packed full on Homecoming night, the crowd's enthusiasm greatly encouraged the football team.

Escorted by Rod Carter, Pam Foriest gives the crowd a winning smile

As we all know David Bell has a lot to smile about. He was crowned 1986 Homecoming King.

Look closely! This might be the only time you will see Joey Rohrer, Mike Ray and Glenn Spencer dressed up

Obviously surprised, Kit Joye was crowned the 1986 Homecoming Queen. Her escort was Steve Isley

Dressed to impress. Sherry Tate is the final member of the Homecoming Court. She was escorted by Ken Costner

PARADING IN STYLE

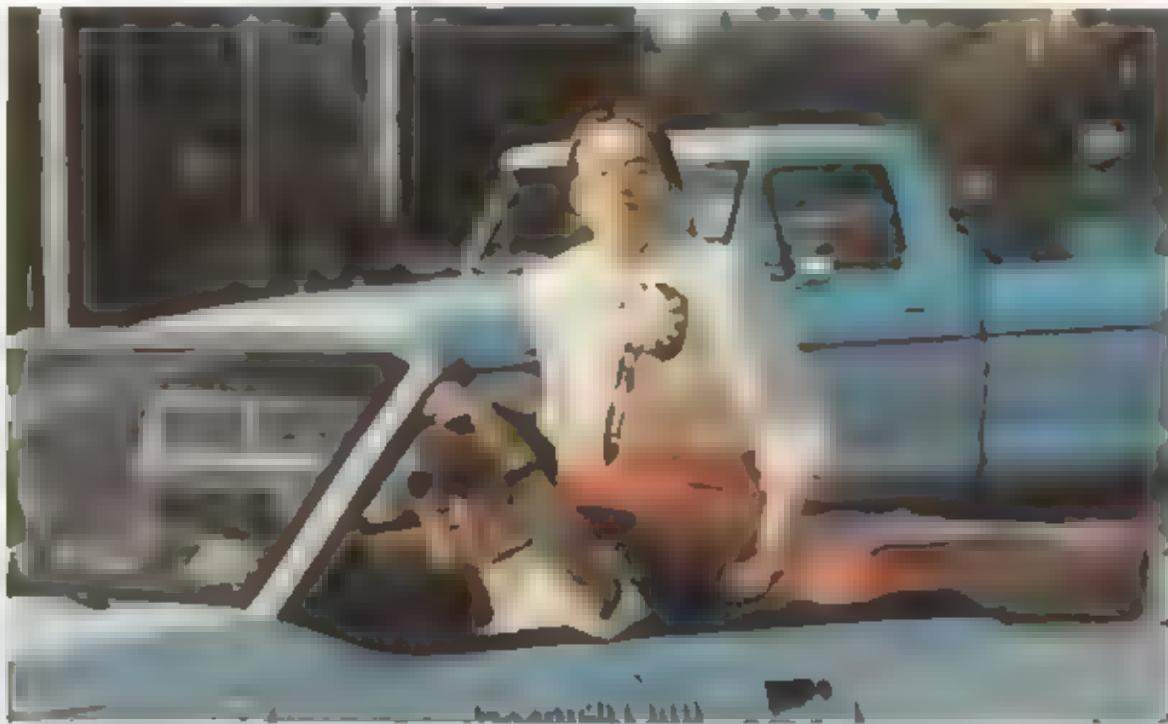

This year's homecoming parade was a great success. Thanks to the help of Mrs. Maynard and Stephanie Ramsey in lining up and organizing everything. This year we also got lucky in the weather, instead of the cold, always raining weather. We actually reached a temperature of 93 this year. Everyone was wearing shorts and t-shirts instead of big sweaters and sweatshirts — even at the game! The cars this year were radicle. We had anything from convertible Cavaliers, 300Z's with T-tops, to the Excalibers in which the Queen's Court rode in Everyone was excited at the parade. The people who were presented at the parade were the Queen's Court: Pam Foriest escorted by Rod Carter, Kit Joye escorted by Steve Isley, Sherry Tate escorted by Ken Costner. Representing the Senior Class were Melissa Roberts and Melody Evans. Representing the Junior Class were Cissy Beeker and Belinda Booker. Representing the Sophomore Class were Andrea Earp and Angela Bolden. Representing the Freshman Class were Tara Shoffner and Ashleigh Hall.

There were also many representing the clubs. Everyone looked great! The parade proceeded from the new Graham Health Center to Graham Middle. Heading the parade was our band. The band has really improved since last year. They have great new uniforms. Following were the club representatives then the class representatives

Our '86-'87 band show off their new uniforms at the Homecoming Parade. They have really improved a lot in the past few years

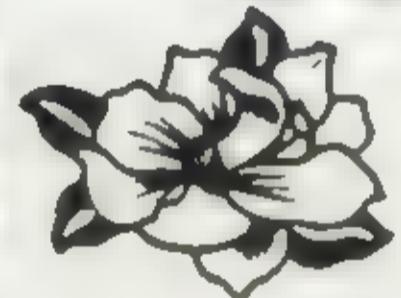

Representing the Spanish Club Ruth Ann Toutant escorted by Ernie Hansen our exchange student from Denmark rides in style during the Homecoming Parade

Riding in class, Kandi Richmond escorted by Glen Spencer, is a well representative for the Business Club

Representing the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Tara Moser escorted by Mike Ray gives a great big smile as she passes by the photographer

Our Homecoming Court Kit Joye, Pam Forest, and Sherry Tale ride in style during the Homecoming Parade

While waiting for the parade to begin, Lisa Cook and Anna Law have time to squeeze in a few words before Tammy Moore takes off in the red Transam.

Representing the Art Club, Tammy Moore, escorted by Jay Burke, smiles diligently as she rides by the photographer.

WE DESERVE A BREAK TODAY

We, the students at Graham High School, deserve a break! In the lunch room the few students who eat there enjoy our schools food while others manage to slip out to get to their favorite fast food restaurant between classes, before and after school. McDonald's, Hardee's, and Pizza Hut seem to have made a fortune off of us

During class you could still find many students roaming the halls and finding time to associate with their friends. If they are not just sitting around in Senior Square, they are congregating together somewhere in the halls.

At Graham, the students are always looking for something new and exciting to happen. Chris Edwards. Have you left your keys in your car lately? David Bell, Did you know that your car will roll backwards in park?

— Brad Ray does!

Some students find time between classes to flirt with one another if they are not getting caught for making out by Mrs. Taylor

We'll always wonder if sneaking a kiss is worth a couple of days in I.S.S. Some people seem to think so

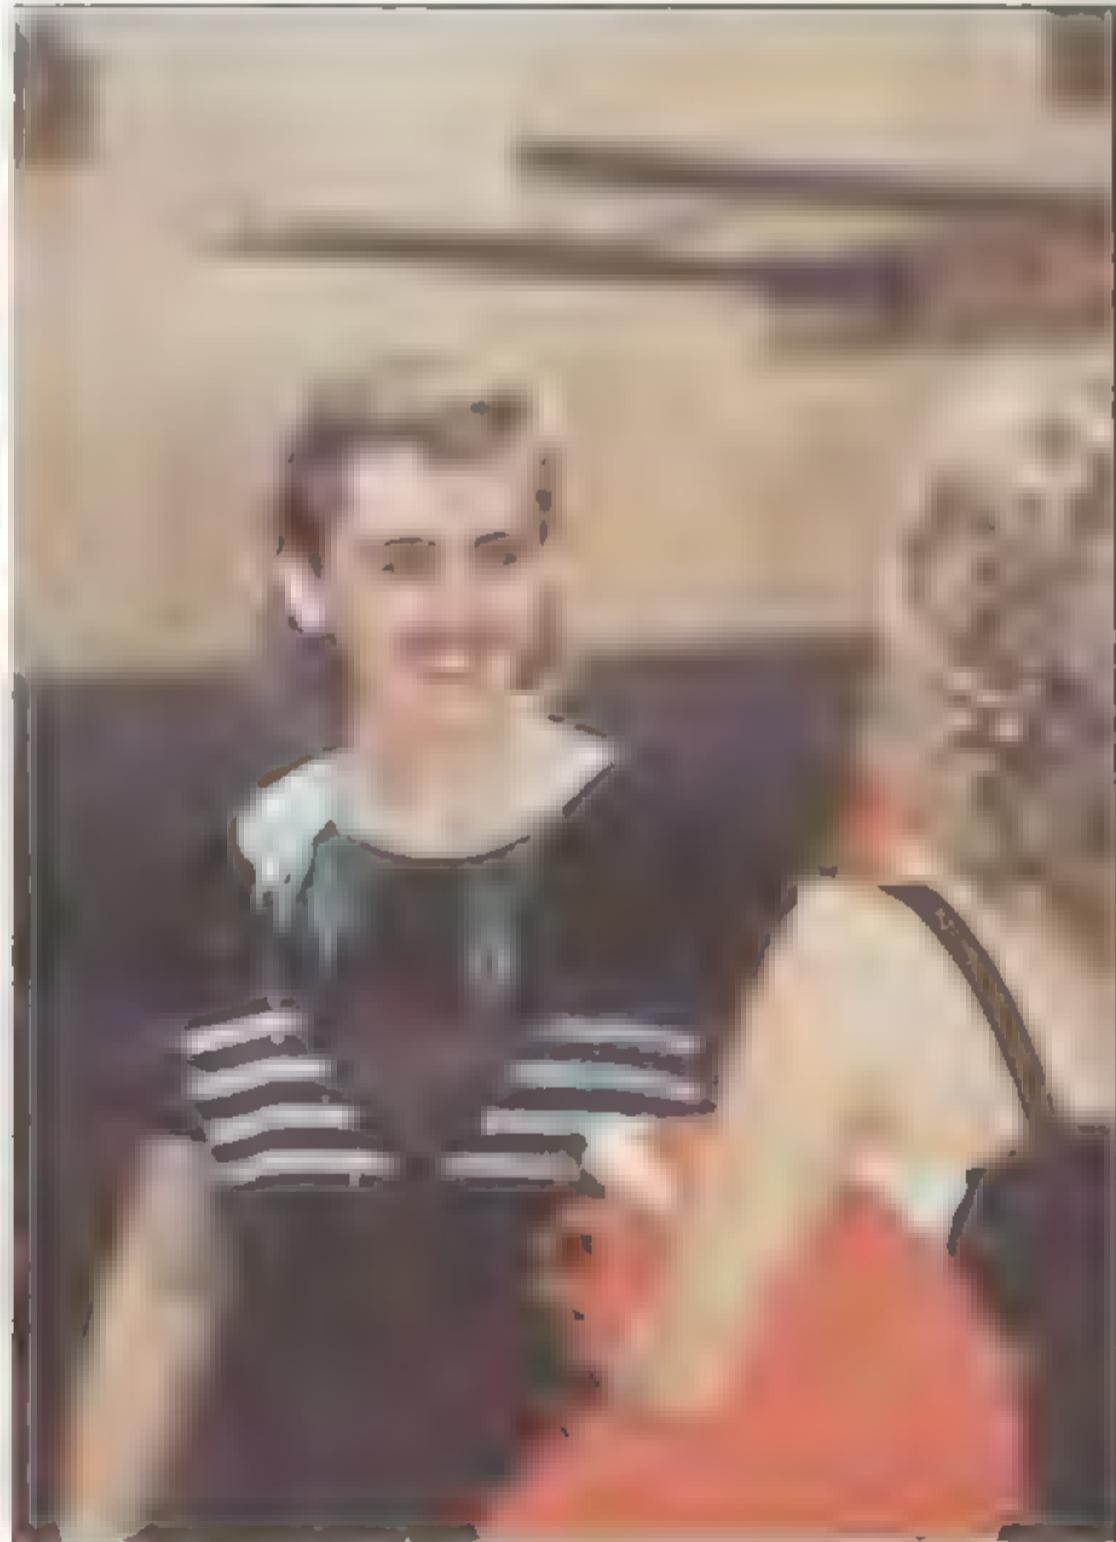

Graham is full of a million different huddles during break time, 4 or 5 friends discussing what has happened or what they hope will happen. More often than not, you can usually find a small crowd of teachers, talking about us, probably as bad as we talk about them. Teachers also love to take a break.

After sitting in class for hours, often it is relieving to be able to stand up, or even run around. Some stretch out on benches, some seem content just to sit. No matter what time you visit Graham, you'll always find someone gossiping, making amusing faces, or just catching a bite to eat

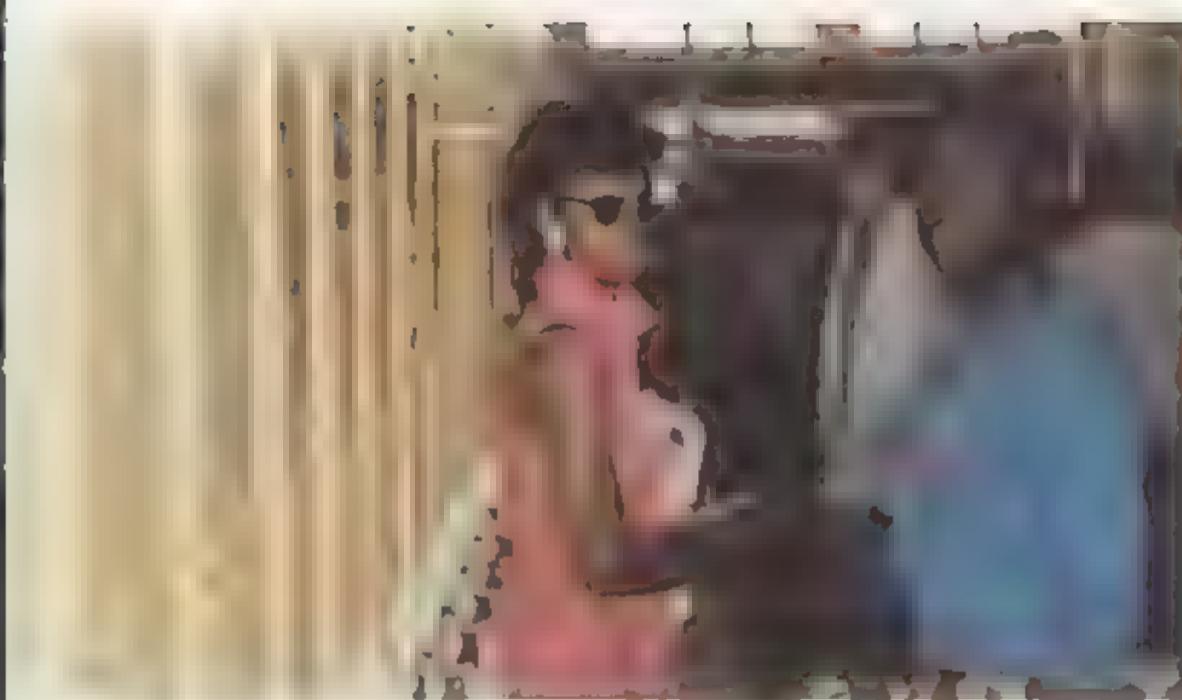

Relaxing until her ride comes, Stephanie Carroll daydreams about the guys at G.H.S

Covered with pie, Glenn Spencer stands embarrassed in front of the entire student body at the Homecoming Pep Rally

Trying to change her style of looks, Amy Brown has plastic wrap surgery

Trying to impress James Franklin, Andre McCollum shows her ability to blow a bubble. Well, is he impressed?

Now looking down, Jean Holt wonders if crumbs of her sausage biscuit fell in her drink

The science department held an "organic lab." David Shotwell asks if anyone would like a bite. Apparently everyone said "No!"

As usual, Michelle Stroud tells the latest gossip to her friends. Everyone seems to find it amusing

Taking a break from balancing equations, these students decide to talk about the upcoming game

GOING FOR BROKE

The 1986 prom had a major change involved. Instead of the good 'ole G.H.'s gym, the junior decided to go for a little more class and gave the Alamance Country Club a call. When May 9th rolled around, the seniors were greeted with chandeliers instead of basketball goals and the "STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN" didn't have to compete with any bleachers or scoreboards. It was a wonderful improvement

Thinking back on the prom, one would probably remember all of the weeks of waiting before the prom. Those times when we were "Going for Broke" trying to get tuxes, dresses, flowers, cars and a list of other things as long as your arm and as costly. Nevertheless all showed up dressed to the hilt

As the night progressed, the dance floor became more and more crowded, and the DJ turned it up louder and louder. Later in the evening, Reed VanBenschoten and Joanna Rosser were crowned the king and queen of the prom

As the night wore down, everyone seemed content with the evening and with their senior prom they decided that it just might have been worth "going broke for."

Having their privacy interrupted doesn't seem to bother Jon King and Yvonne Rumble too much

Much to their surprise, Reed VanBenschoten and Joanna Rosser were crowned King and Queen of the 1986 prom

The prom is a big deal to us, but Coach Maynard seems familiar with the whole routine

Looking in high gear, Cindy Faulkner shows us what a great time she's having

With his ever watchful eyes Mr. Dixon greeted students as they entered the prom

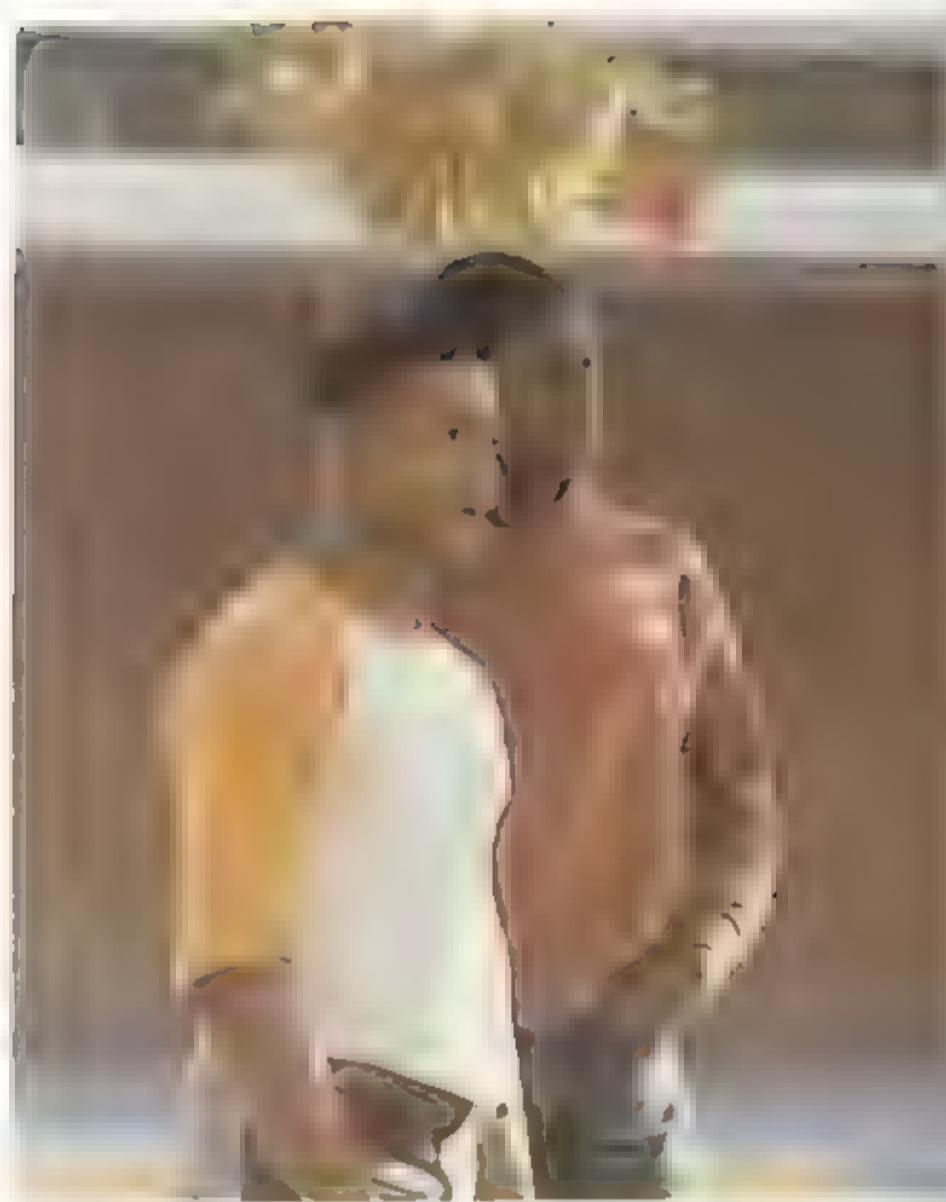

As the DJ turns up the music Graham High students crowded the dance floor

Students at Graham have an attitude. Well, it's more than just an attitude, it's a way of life. As far as we're concerned, the most exciting thing to do is just mess around.

And we're always doing it, no matter when. Sitting in the back of class whispering and writing notes, talking to our favorite teachers at break, acting about half our age in the cafeteria at lunch, or sitting on whomever's car in the upper parking lot after school, all we're doing is messin' around.

And what do the teachers think? "All this wasting of time is not going to get you anywhere!" What do we think? As before we don't think. We have an attitude!

The best thing about "Just Messin' Around" How about if you climbed on top of the school to retrieve your frisbee and Mrs. Taylor is waiting at the bottom. What were you doing? "Just Messin' Around!"

With a look of surprise Barr, Leah, Curtis Walker and Clarence Bradshaw stop and pose to have their picture taken

After a long hard practice our spirited J.V. cheerleaders don't have much to cheer about

Trying to decide his future, Scott Godwin requests the help of one of the school representatives on college day

BREAKS IN THE DAY

The break in Devil country did not refer to "moonwalking" or people spinning on their heads. Instead, it meant the short ten minutes between second and third periods that students called their own.

Many students spent their time snacking in the cafeteria getting rid of the hunger pains between break-fast and lunch.

If you were not hungry, meeting in Senior Square was the thing to do, but when the weather turned cold everyone went to the cafeteria to catch-up on the latest gossip. Others gathered in the former smoking area, while the more studious students headed to the library.

Break was also a time to finish up homework. Many students waited until break to complete many assignments.

Club meetings were also taken care of during break, but sometimes, there was not enough time.

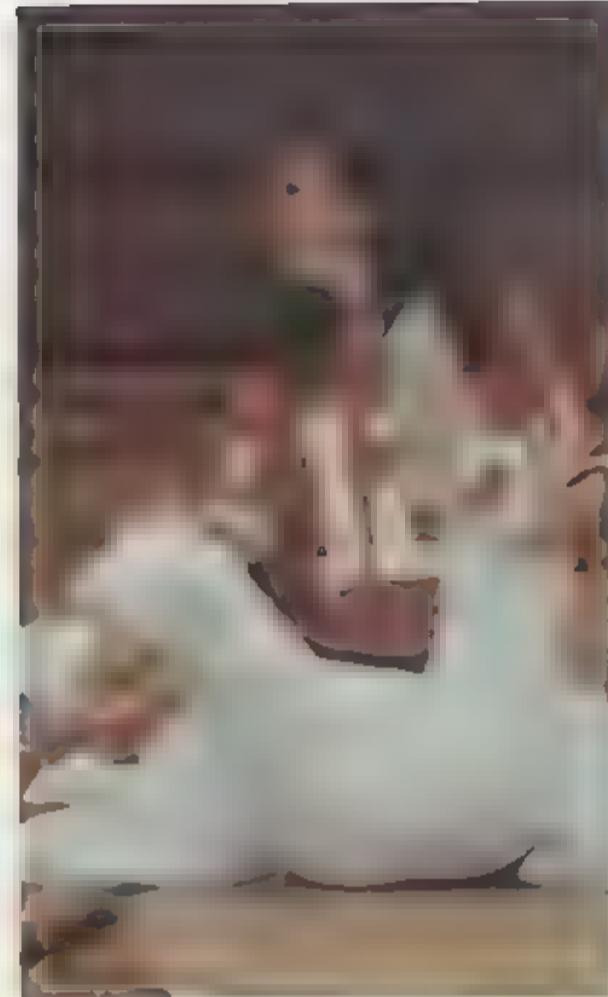

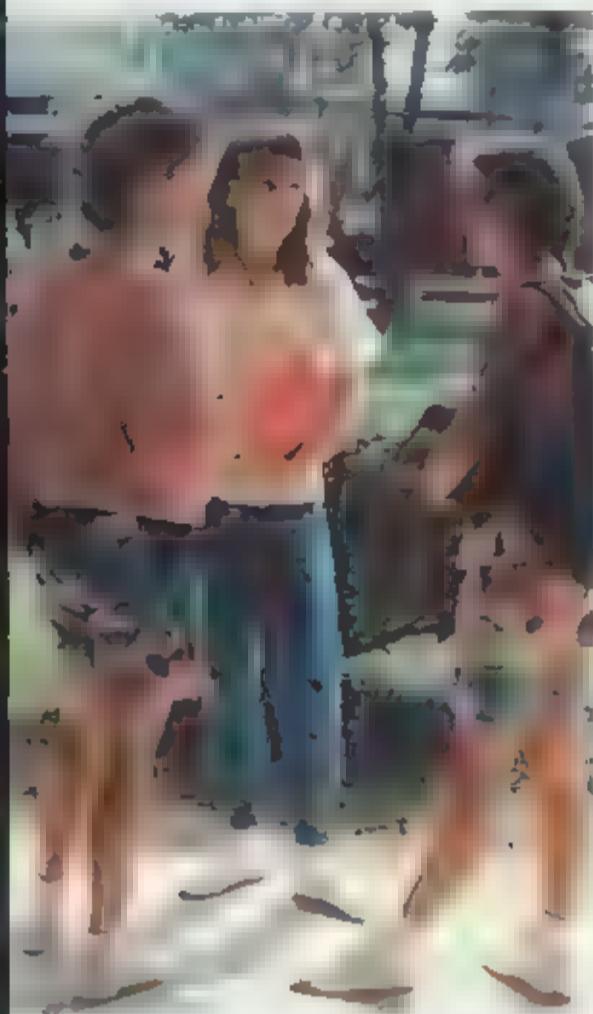

According to Graham High students, the only thing wrong with break is its shortness. A lot of people complain because you really do not have enough time to do anything or see anyone.

For many students though, the most important aspect of break was a chance to relax. The best thing about break was being able to get away from classes and sit and do nothing, except what you want to do.

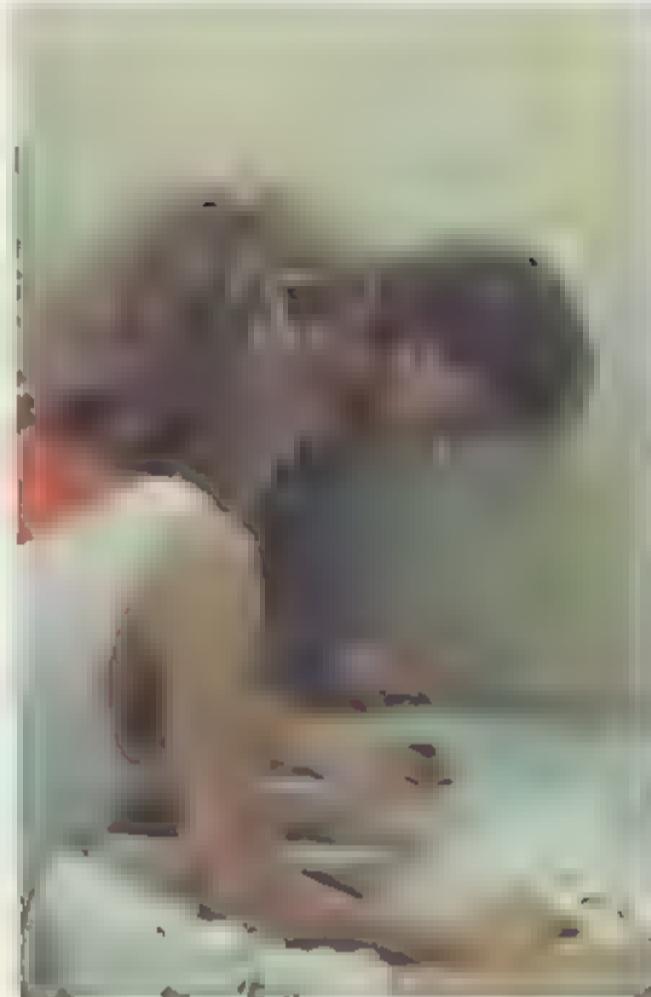

Taking a break Sherry Tate, Leanne Thompson, and Theresa Setars wait in line for something to curb their appetite before lunch.

Listen here. Nichole Northcott, Cara Compton, and Amy Hall discuss last night's assignments, but are wondering if they will have it completed on time.

Pep talk. The devil crowd was entertained with Melissa Roberts, and the legs of Georgia Rogers during the homecoming pep rally. This was an effort by the cheerleaders in raising school spirit.

Catch up work. Stephanie Ramsey and Cindy Faulkner do not seem to have time for a break. They are trying to meet the deadlines for the yearbook.

"Yeah we're bad!" Georgia Rogers takes a break before class to show a cheer the GHS varsity does as Dissy Beeker watches.

Relaxation. James Wilson cuddles up with an unidentified furry friend, while catching a few Zzzzzzz's.

THE LAIDBACK BREAK

Easygoing, Lisa Stuckey, Sherry Tate, and Sonya Robertson are taking it easy. They are celebrating their summer break by a week vacation at Myrtle Beach.

Look out! These guys are bound to be up to no good especially since they are not in school

Students at GHS are pretty laid-back. They take things in stride. Getting back into the swing of school was difficult but we always seemed to manage.

Summer was a time to forget, to relax, and to remember the good times. Many students left for the beaches, yet what occurred over the summer was doing little as possible.

Starting school was difficult. Crammed schedules left less time for friends, and less time to relax. School was difficult, but there was no doubt that we would change things about GHS.

Having fun was a main concern and at every possible break people at Graham had fun!

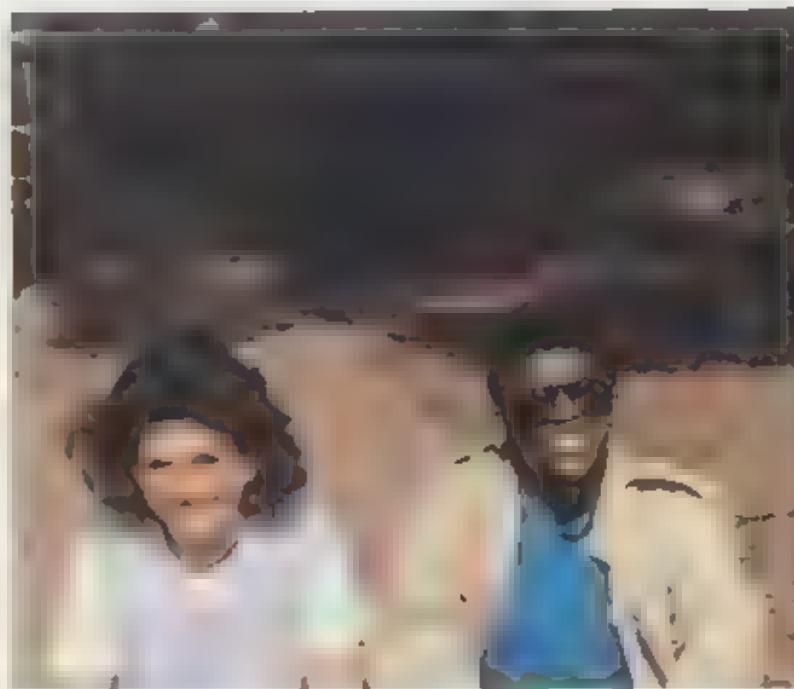

Hanging around, Dwight Taylor plays on the monkey bars at Graham park. He shows us that you can always have fun

Your senior year can always be described as a peak in your life. In the lower grades, we all used to imagine what it would be like to be seniors, but it seemed so far away. Then, it was suddenly here.

The class of '87 came in to many "Breaks in the Mold" as G.H.S. had changed in many ways. New teachers and policies, as always, troubled us at the beginning, but we eventually just quit worrying about it. Seniors had more to worry about than silly rules.

The thing that can be said about the class of '87 is that it's hard to look at as a whole. It is a class of many different individuals and personalities, and many different ideas. The class of '87 brought many new things into this school when we came, and perhaps because of this we won't soon be forgotten. We "broke the mold" here, and if we are "soon forgotten" we, you can bet, won't soon forget

Class Crown: Laura Steffen and Tim Perr

Remember your Freshman year. We were all so proud to be in high school. There were so many things to get used to and to learn about

Remember your Sophomore year. Tenth grade biology and Drivers Ed. were our two biggest worries. Remember when you got your first set of car keys. Remember your first real date

Remember your Junior year. Class rings were the big attraction. Designs and stones and special instructions to make yours an individual creation. And the prom, the big night out you'll remember the rest of your life

In a patriotic red and black suit, Melody Evans represented her Senior Class well at Homecoming

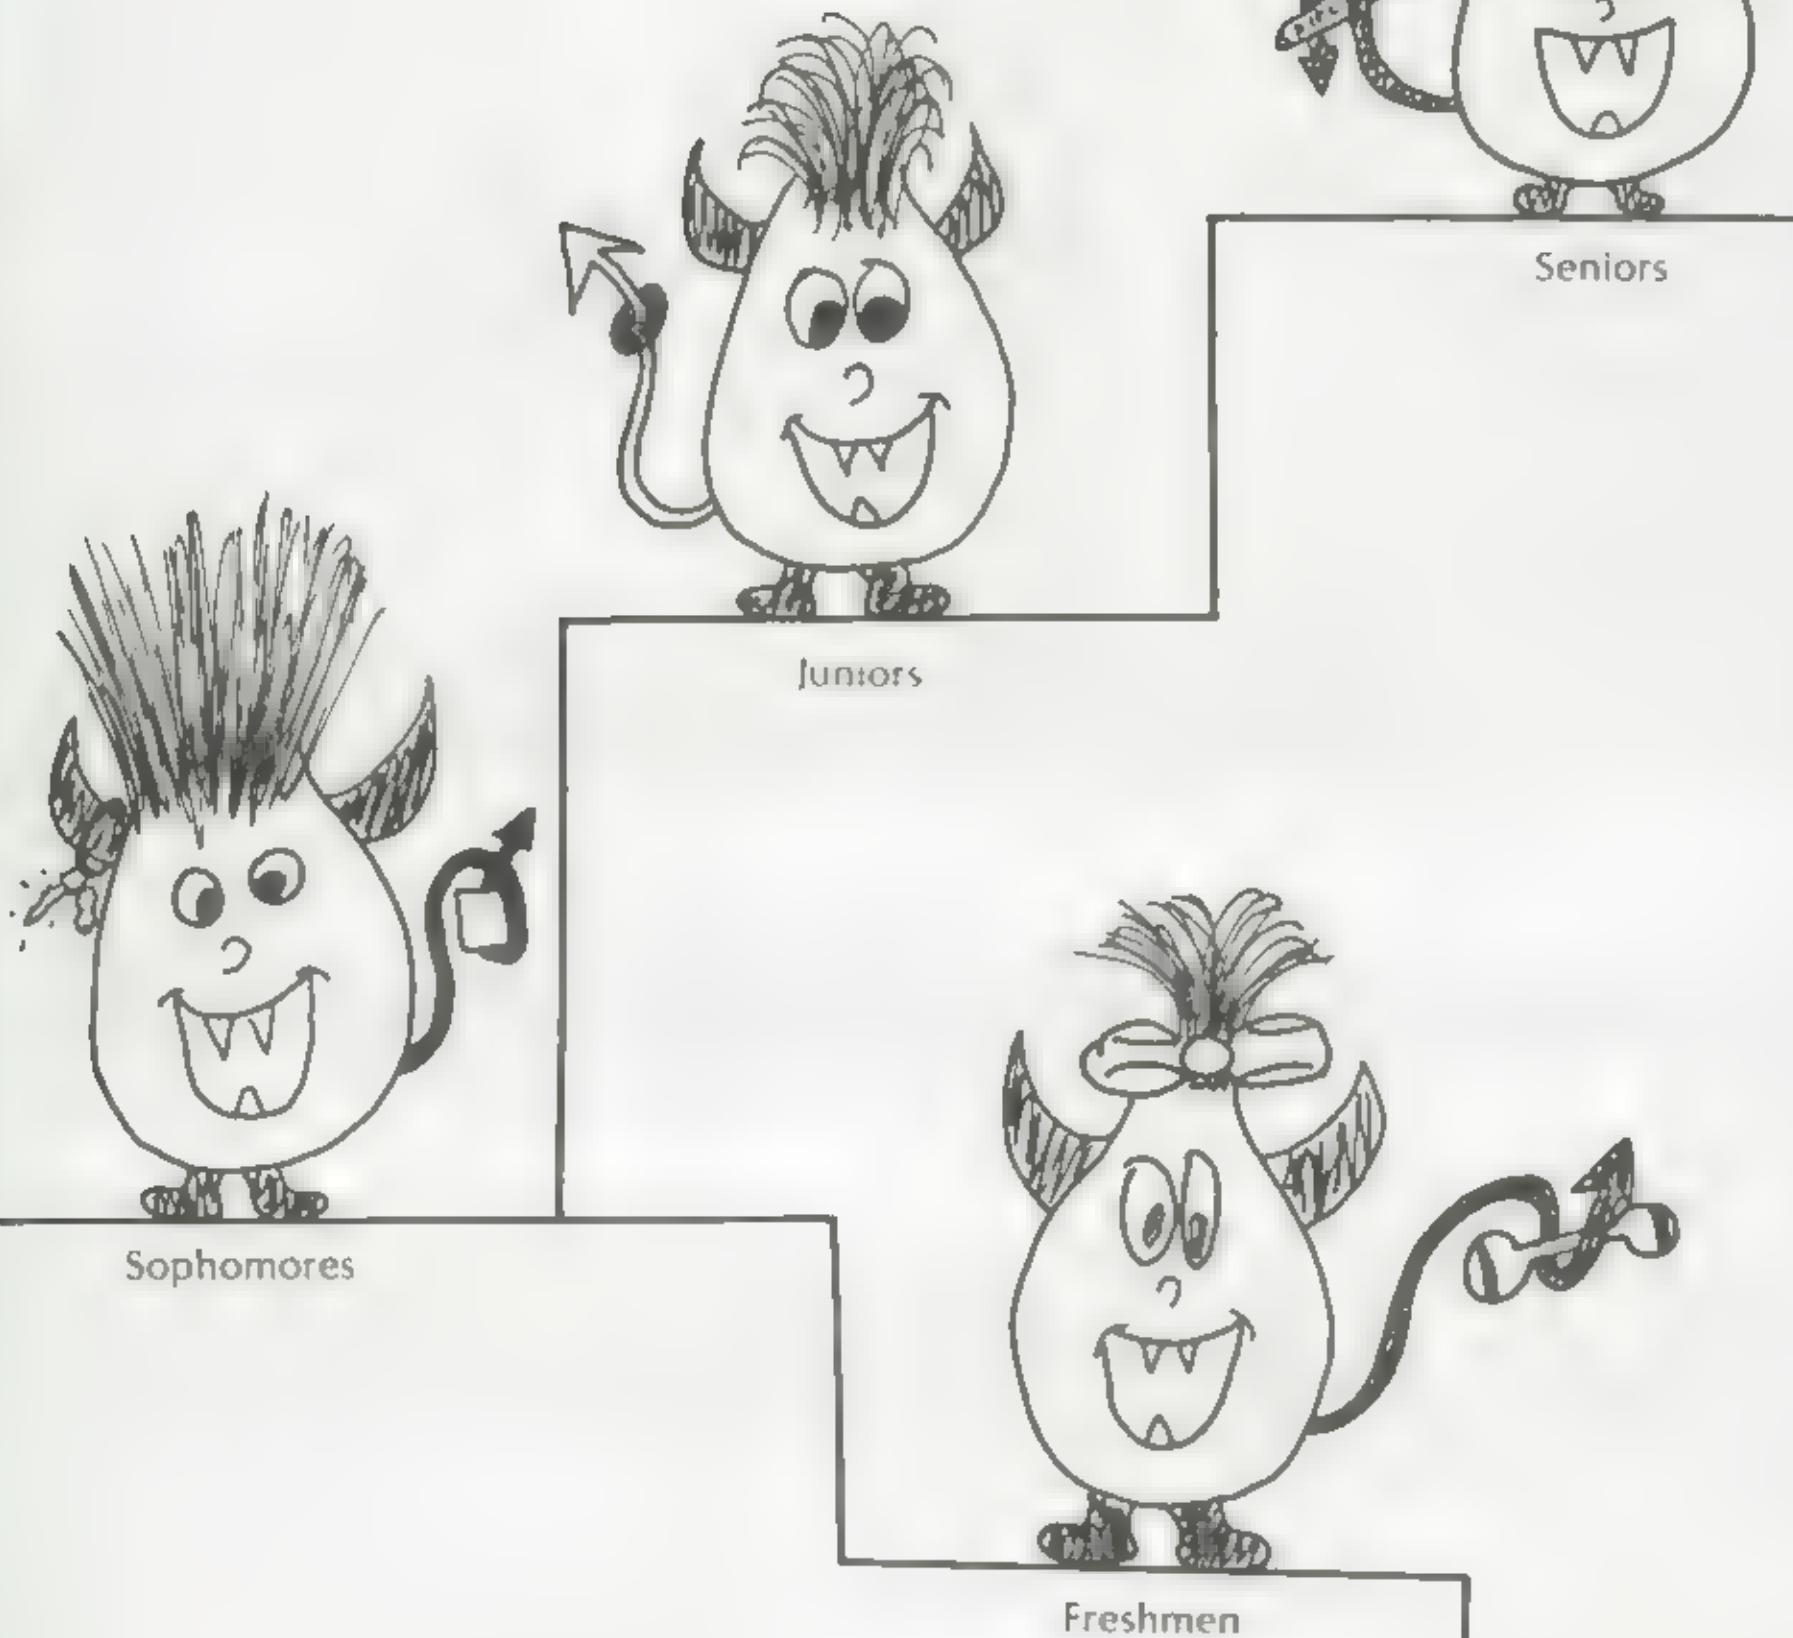

Remember your Senior year. Announcements, pictures, caps, gowns, thank you notes, and every one after your money. Remember the joys and tears of graduation. Remember Mom and Dad so proud. Remember the friends you may not see again. Remember your celebration after graduation. Remember all you've done and felt here at Graham High School

Just wait 'til next year" is, without a doubt the phrase most used by juniors. The juniors had a year of impatient expectancy, but more than that, the juniors had a year of good times.

One's junior year explodes with new freedoms and new responsibilities. Reaching the upperclassman status was an experience for all, and a goal long awaited. A car by one's junior year is a quite common thing, and sometimes the freshman and sophomores seem silly in their intense desire for one. "Oh well" a junior would say "I was there once, too!"

Juniors often suffered from a serious sickness of school. The biggest problem presented here is that there was very little that could be done in remedy. While the seniors count down the days, the juniors had to tack another year on to the senior's calculations. The juniors often felt as they had learned the meaning of eternity... first hand.

The juniors, however, found new sense of comfort in the students at high school. And a new sense of anticipation. The junior year is but one tiny step from the most desired adjective for a high school student seniors!

SOPHOMORES

There is a trick to being a sophomore. One has to ignore the fact that he is a sophomore, and just proceed with life as if nothing catastrophic has happened. Easier said than done.

Something catastrophic has happened when students become sophomores. It's like you say, "O.K., I've got my freshman year over with, now I'm ready to go." WRONG! Being a sophomore is the epitome of being stuck in the middle. With the right attitude, a sophomore can survive this traumatic portion of high school.

Sophomores have birds-eye view of high school. They can sit back and giggle at the inexperienced freshmen and remember their younger days. For fun and relaxation, they could converse with the occasional junior, and think about their next year.

This all shows that sophomores has a lot to think about, if not a lot to do. Being a sophomore has a certain sense of security surrounding it. No longer does one have to be afraid of high school, yet one also didn't have to deal with the fear of graduation and what lies beyond. Sophomores could just sit back, and have a good time, while waiting for that sixteenth birthday to roll around, and change their whole social outlook.

Being humbled is one of the harder things to deal with. For freshmen it's a way of life. Everybody has to do it sometime.

Sitting in the seat of power in the eighth grade was a great feeling. They had a feeling of significance. Everyone knew your name, even the teachers.

But all that ended as freshmen have to start all over again. One of the bad things about being a freshman is the rumors.

"Freshmen get thrown in the trashcans, freshmen get lost, freshmen get sacrificed to pagan gods in a horrible ritual using a stapler, four Moose and some household bleach." Only a few of these rumors are true, some freshmen do get lost, but trashcan stuffing isn't as popular as it was in the old days.

What comes with being a freshman is a return to that feeling of insignificance, of being highly unimportant.

Occasionally an upperclassman will make a "desperate" attempt to make a freshman feel better. "You're all right for a freshman," they say. Gee, Thanks.

But bear with the upperclassmen freshmen. They mean well. They are just preparing you for what's to come, and enjoying doing it. Besides, "Next year THOSE freshmen are gonna catch it."

GIVE US A BREAK!

There are things that you can't avoid in life. Being born, which isn't so bad, paying taxes, which you'll learn to live with, death, which is a little more unpleasant, and teachers, which is actually the bad part. Teachers are a different kind of person. Who else could put up with students swinging from the ceiling fans, or claiming that there was this wild mountain gorilla who folded their homework into this awesome paper airplane and threw it away? The gorilla also became interested in literature and stole the text book too. He was nosy and took their journal to top it all off.

Yes, teachers have this un-godly amount of patience. And boy, do they need it! Sometimes, if we were really nice our teachers would give us a break. Maybe they would give us another day on that late homework, or even back that test up a couple of days. These were the times we considered the teachers to be "cool", and would sing their praises for awhile. These were also the times that would be forgotten the next time the teacher told us to be quiet. Then we would consider the teacher hateful and say nasty things about her. We would always leave out what provoked the teacher to tell us to sit down and be quiet, like dancing on the desk, or playing football with our text books. That wasn't important. Sometimes students would be very fickle.

After four years one comes to associate the school with the teachers. We'll always remember certain teachers we liked, or some we didn't like, but teachers are a big part of high school, and probably a big part of what we'll always remember about G.H.S.

BREAK WITH A SONG

The GHS chorus had a lot to sing about during the year. To start things off, the whole gang of them went out to sell jewelry in order to pay for expenses they might encounter during the next nine months. The sale was fairly successful so the choral department made a few bucks.

At the close of the previous year, tryouts were held in order to select the small ensemble. A talented group was hand picked by Mrs. Isley, and their performances were enjoyed by many throughout the year. One performance in particular, with the North Carolina symphony at Williams High School, went extremely well.

Whoever made up the expression "practice makes perfect" was probably a choral student. Usually, the chorus could be heard straining their vocal chords in order to get every note just right. The students in chorus always try to make it perfect.

Behind those shades these girls are studying their lines for their next performance.

Sean Lowe and Matthew Agner of the small ensemble were practicing for their next production.

MOLDED INTO THE PERFECT MISS GHS

On November 22, 1986 the Graham High School National Honor Society presented the Miss GHS Pageant. The pageant was entitled "Miss GHS Is Flying High", and as the title implies, all 12 contestants were sitting on top of the world.

Even though the pageant got off to a slow start when the sound system went BOOM before the talent competition could begin, Mrs. Honeycutt jumped right in there and got the show back on the road in no time. The judges were: Miss Kelly Foley, the current Miss Burlington, Mr. Marshall Qualls, choral and drama teacher at Southern High School, and Mr.

Hardy Tew, assistant superintendent of Alamance County Schools. The escorts, Paul Briggs, Neil Dunn, David Joye, Tony Dilello, Steve Isley, and Mark Latham, helped out by both moving props on and off the stage and escorting the girls in the casualwear and evening gown competitions.

The 12 contestants and their talents were: 1) Miss Kelley Allen who performed a jazz routine to "New Attitude," 2) Miss Kim Bernatowicz who performed a routine with her two bunny marionettes, 3) Miss Lisa Cartwright performed a humorous monologue, 4) Miss Aretha Franklin sang "Love On A Two Way Street,"

5) Miss Kathering Garner sang "To night," 6) Miss Candi Globuschutz played a wonderful version of the "Love Theme" from St. Elmo's Fire, 7) Miss Lynn Isley sang "The Greatest Love Of All," 8) Miss Sondra Murphy sang "Here I Am", 9) Miss Michele Riggs sang "Love In Any Language," 10) Miss Georgia Rogers played the piano, 11) Miss Jana Story performed a jazz routine to "Baby I'm A Star," 12) Miss Amy Taylor broke loose and went wild with a dance to "Footloose".

After the judges left to tally the votes, Miss Burlington, Miss Kelly Foley performed a self-choreographed dance routine to "Fame," and Miss Southern High School Miss Ann Webster, whom was crowned the night before, sang a song from the Broadway musical Cabaret.

Now the judges decisions were final. Mr. Ken Costner, president of the NHS, presented the award for Miss Congeniality to Miss Lisa Cartwright. The first runner up was announced and it was Miss Michele Riggs. The auditorium filled with silence as Ken crowned Miss GHS 1986-1987, Miss Katherine Garner.

Singing her little heart out, Miss Sondra Murphy tells everyone "Here I Am" and I'm Ready to go.

The talented Miss Michele Riggs, though being mainly familiar with Spanish, said "Love In Any Language" is fluently spoken here.

Wearing a red velvet red evening gown, Miss Georgia Rogers isn't as nervous as most of the contestants.

All decked out and ready to kill, Miss Jana Story, is wearing an evening gown of ivory lace and satin.

Miss Amy Taylor breaks away from her meek, quiet ways to show her stuff in the pageant as the evening wear competition ends.

COUNCILS, CONVENTIONS, AND QUIZES

The Student Council at Graham High School was very active this year. Their first project was Homecoming which involved a parade, half-time festivities, and a dance. The parade began at 5:00 and a big crowd was there to watch the elegant cars pass by. The half-time festivities included introductions of each representative and her escort and the crowning of the Queen. The dance following the game was a success.

The Student Council also hosted the North Carolina Association of Student Councils (NCASC) Convention. It was held from November 8-10 and involved 500 delegates from various schools all over the state. The Student Council worked many long hours AFTER SCHOOL and on WEEKENDS to make this project a great achievement.

They sponsored an Air Band Contest and Semi-Formal Christmas Dance in December. They gave all the students candy canes at Christmas and a survival kit for exams. They also gave all the teachers apples.

Science Olympiad is a group which includes several students in our school. The students involved were gifted in science and were picked because of their academic abilities. They participated in quizzes dealing with Science.

These ready and able members of the Student Council are more than willing to help at the convention in any way possible.

BREAK THROUGH WITH SPIRIT AND A SAFE WAY

The Pep Club got off to a great start this year. Homecoming came early this year and the Pep club was prepared as always with Missy Mundy as its representative. The Pep Club made several alterations in their way of handling business this year. Four officers were promptly elected after Homecoming. Those officers included Cissy Brooks, Candi Globuschutz, Delaine Kimery, and Missy Sharpe. The goals for the Pep Club were to have a mascot tryouts for a mascot during basketball season.

Leaving homeroom Kandi Richmond displays the notebook the SADD club gave out. The SADD club distributed these during homeroom for the entire school.

This year the SADD club made many attempts to prevent drunk driving. This year's SADD club was one of the largest here at Graham under the direction of Mr. Dismuke. They did many things to make the students aware of Drunk Driving. At the beginning of the school year they passed out notebooks with a story about a dead drunk driver in it. On Halloween everyone received a piece of bubble gum with the slogan "Don't Drive Drunk!"

CASSANT LE MOULE! SOMOS ORIGINALES!

The French Club, Le cercle Francais, is a great group of students who are currently enrolled in a French class or those who have successfully completed one year of French. The club has in past years made trips to France, but this year they went to Canada and Virginia. Another favorite trip of club members are the times they go eat gourmet meals in French restaurants. The officers have also planned many types of fun things such as; parties, and class snack days in which students cook a French meal and the whole class gets a taste so that the students may experience some type of culture of the country. The purpose of the French Club is to increase the knowledge of French culture.

The Spanish Club strives to establish an understanding and appreciation of the Spanish language through communications between human relations. Club members must be taking, or have taken, a Spanish class and have an over-all C average. Activities of this club include: pinata parties, eating at Mexican restaurants, and a trip to a Spanish speaking country, which this year was Mexico. Ole.

BREAKING INTO

The FHA was very busy this year. They participated in the Homecoming activities and their banner won the homecoming banner contest. In the fall, they planted flowers and shrubs around the home economics department. For Christmas, they had a craft show for the school and served refreshments to the faculty. Afterwards, they had a party for the members. They also participated in National FHA week in February by setting up exhibits. In the Spring, they had a Senior Picnic. The officers of 86-87 are Anita Graves, Stephanie Carroll, Pam Owens, and Angela Warren.

The Business club also had a busy year. They sold calendars in November as a money making project with the money going toward scholarships in the field of business. For Christmas, they took presents to the Skilled Nursing Home in Burlington. In February, they had a computer match for Valentine's Day. The students paid to have their names matched up with Mr. or Mrs. Perfect. The officers for 86-87 are Pam Forest, James Wilson, Kandi Richmond, and Tracy Duffer.

The business club worked hard this year. They really did put on the blitz, as shown by their homecoming banner.

One of the lucky couples were Missy Mundy and Ken Costner. Didn't they make a cute couple?

ECOLOGY, PHOTOGRAPHY, AND ART MOLDING OUR LIVES WITH BEAUTY

At GHS this year we again have many service clubs who make school a nice place to be from 8:20 to 3:10. These clubs do so by trying to beautify the campus and all of it's surroundings.

The Ecology Council is a service club dedicated to the protection and improvement of our environment through such projects as landscaping and the planting and care of plants, shrubs, and flowers on campus. They also sponsored special environmental observances such as Wild Food Festivals at both Manteo and at the Penn 4-H Center. They are also active participants in the Alamance Beautiful Project and helped with the campus clean-up. Social activities this year were a Halloween party, Christmas party, tree decoration at the Health Care Center, and a skiing trip.

Photography Club is a new organization started this year at Graham. The students involved worked with and learned about proper usage and types of photography. Members take pictures on their own theme and compile it into a scrapbook to submit to their advisor so he might see what skills that individuals possessed in the field of photography.

The Art Club contains a majority of students involved with art as in classes or as a hobby. The club has been very active this year. They painted a banner for homecoming, visited an alumni from Graham, Mr. Timmothy Oliver, and had a Christmas party just to name a few things. This club has helped guild morale in many ways as well as had a lot of fun.

An all star cast appeared at the Ecology Council's Halloween party. Winning awards for best costume were Betty Boop (Beverly Pagura), Commando (Bently Pagura), and Dolly Parton (Shelly Sutton)

LEND A HELPING HAND

The helpers at GHS were very important to the well being of the school. Without the library aides who would have known where the books were? What about the bus drivers? Without them how would some of us get to school each day? The office assistants were very important to the order which must be kept in our office. Also they made sure if each check out was legitimate. The lab assistants had an important job also. They helped the science department with grading papers, setting up labs, and other various activities. This school would have surely been in trouble without all the helpers, because they were so vital to each and everyone of us.

DECA does many things throughout the year, both on the local and state levels, they go to different contests. The contests they had were in apparel and accessories, restaurant management, and retail sales. The DECA club became very educated in the outside world of working.

MOLDING OUR LIVES WITH MUSIC

Band! What does this word mean to high school students? This word means seeing a group of enthusiastic young people wearing bright colored uniforms representing their school. The Band fills the air with music to raise school spirit and supports athletic festivities

Just imagine how school life would be without the band. Who would lead off the Homecoming Parade, entertain us at halftime, and represent our school as our band does?

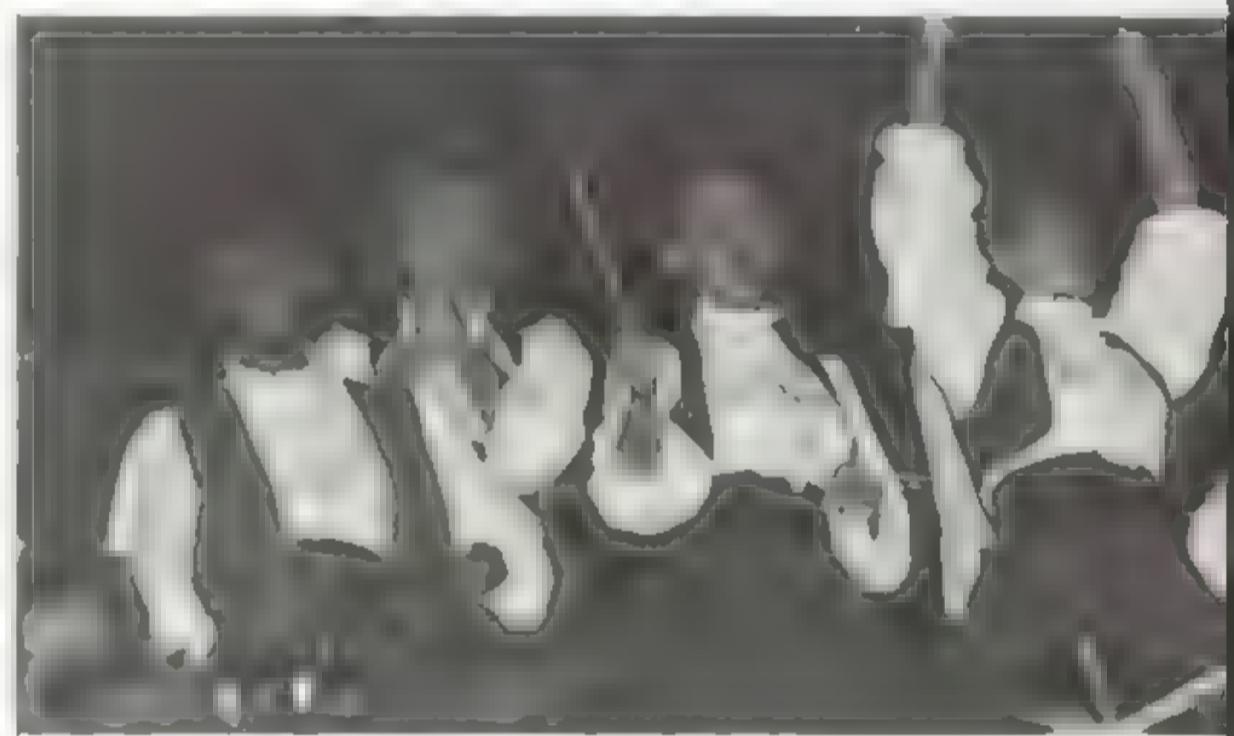

In the distance, as the parade begins, you see the GHS marching band leading off with their happy tunes

The Graham High School Mighty Red Devil Marching Band is under the direction of Mr. Johnny Albea and drum major, Jason Gunn. The band works very hard and this is evident each time they perform. During the year the band attended competition in Charlotte and were in the Graham, Burlington, and Gibsonville Christmas parades. They also performed for the school in both a winter and spring concert. Their big events were two picnic carnivals held to raise money for the new band uniforms

If you ever see a band member you should go up to them and give them a supportive pat on the back and BRING ON THE BAND!!!

LAND OF CONFUSION

There were four things needed by students in order to publish something. Number one, a pencil, because students were constantly writing. Two, a reasonable amount of intelligence, because copy, layouts, picas, graphics, ads, and pictures can get pretty complicated after a while. Three, a good handful of nerve pills because the students were sure to get jumpy trying to meet deadlines, and four, a psychiatrist to talk to after you missed the deadline. Annual staff is the ultimate place to procrastinate. When the deadline is weeks away, the students would feel as if they had all the time in the world to get their job done. However, it always came down to rushing as fast as possible in order to get in all the materials. Preparing the annual is a big job. This is not usually realized when students are signing up for classes. People who sign up for annual staff more than one year in a row are simply masochistic.

A lot of miles were put in by the annual staff while selling ads. Here we see Angie Stroud, Tracy Boggs, and Wendy Shambley on their way out.

Putting together an annual requires a lot of decisions. Consulting each other are Delaine Kimrey, Brad Ray, and Sarah Knight.

Letters were sent out to senior's parents. Cindy Faulkner is checking the list.

The homecoming attendant for the annual staff was Sarah Knight. She was escorted by Stephen Jones.

EXTRA, EXTRA! READ ALL ABOUT IT!

Newspaper staff is different. The workload comes all at once. The layouts and graphics are usually done in a massive hurry. Students work, and work, but are usually happy with the final product, and are usually happy with the chance to relax when the work is done.

SPORTS

BUSTING THROUGH

Graham Red Devils began 1986 season with high expectations after solid performance in scrimmages against two 4-A schools. Those expectations continued after opening the season with an impressive 27-13 victory over 4-A power Oxford Webb.

After suffering their first defeat by Jordan Matthews the Red Devils bounced back to defeat Eastern Guilford 33-13.

The Red Devils entered the first week of conference play with a loss to Eastern Randolph for Homecoming. From that loss Graham regrouped and developed into one of the top defensive teams in the mid-state 3-A conference. Evidence of this change was seen in the 11-0 shut out of Eastern Alamance.

The biggest game of the year came against cross town rival Southern Alamance on October 24. On that night Marvin Willis broke loose for 153 yards rushing and two touchdowns. Doug Rowe had a fine night at his receiver position. The offensive high light came on David Joye's 51 yard TD run off a fake punt, the defense under Curtis Walker, Chris Edwards, Jason Hancock, Lonnie Thompson, and Buddy Sell held Terry Worth, the conference all time leading rusher, to less than 100 yard until late in the game, with the 22-14 victory. Graham had reached the highest point of the 1986 season.

Final honors were given to Lonnie Thompson, Chris Edwards, and David Joye, who were selected to the mid-state all-Conference team. It was a season dotted by peaks and valleys. For those who played and coached. However, it was a season that all of Graham can be proud of.

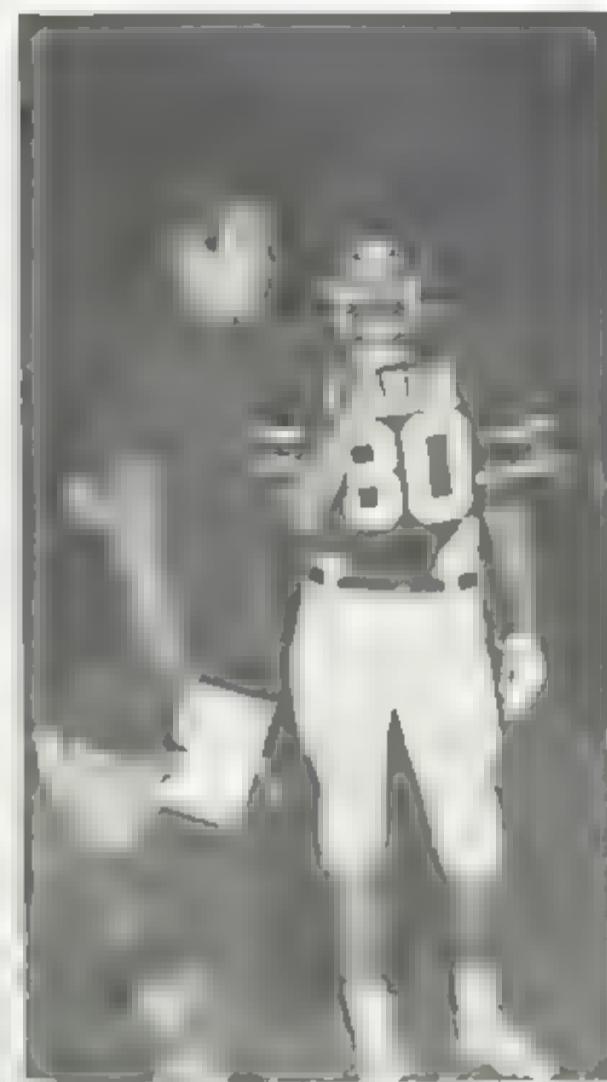

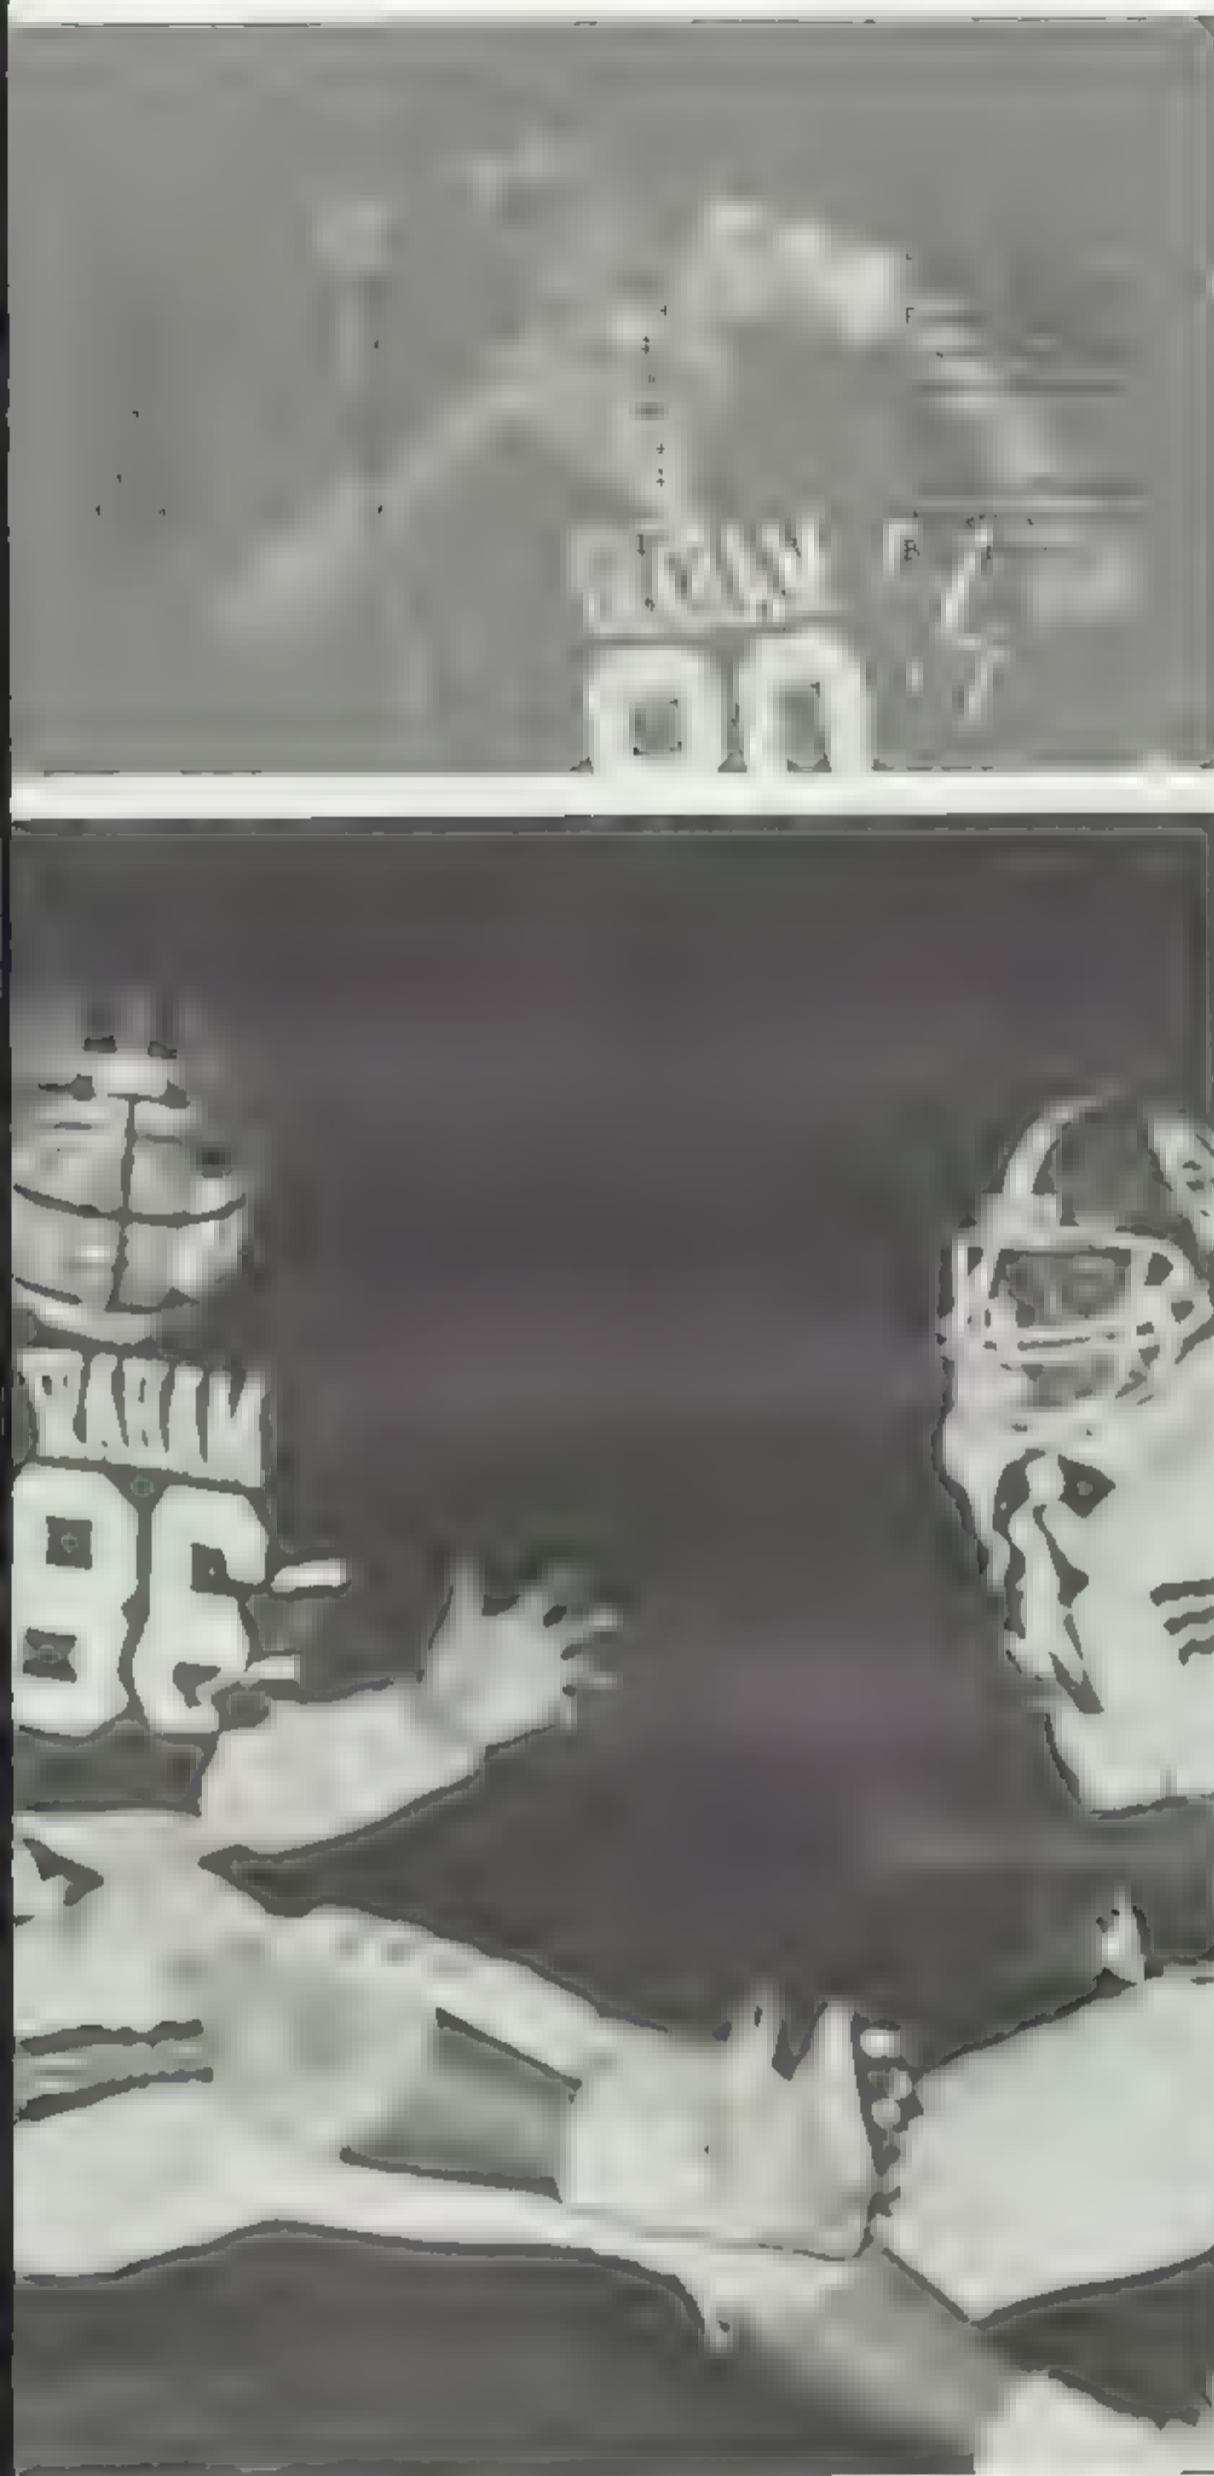

Come on Coach Williams, don't take it out on Chris Edwards! Remember it's not who wins or loses

The tackling efforts of Dewey Green seem like they need a little help from Chris Edwards and Chris Ray. Kevin Bigelow gives his help also Digested about the last play, Spencer Garrison blows off steam.

With the exception of camera hog, Willie Bigelow, the JV football team seems pretty engrossed with the game

The team's athletic trainer, Coach Williams, works to take care of the team's injuries. Buddy Sell, Robert Wilburn, and Neil Dunn watch him nurse the unknown soldier back to health.

Taking time out from class, Neil Dunn tapes up a recent injury so he'll be prepared for the game. It looks like he isn't the only Varsity football player who isn't doing his work.

The Red Devil's starting defense is taking a break from all their hard work while they wait for the other team to break from their huddle.

To show his team spirit, Dewey Green, sports a new hairstyle. Obviously he's trying to look like everybody's favorite defensive player.

MOLDING FOR THE FUTURE

The 1986 J V Football team was off to a great start for the 1986 season. They had an impressive win over Jordan Matthews 6-0. The only score came on a fumble recovery by Barry Leath, which was returned for a touchdown. There was a lot of outstanding defensive plays made by Bobby Lambert, David Barrett and Anthony Lee.

After a week long break the Red Devils registered their second win over Eastern Guilford 18-14. The defensive unit again played a tough game and held the Eastern Guilford offense to 159 total offensive yards but offense was led by Ralph Halacheff's two touchdown passes to Robert Tinnin and Barry Leath.

Throughout the remainder of the season the Red Devil J V's fared to register another win. Although the team played hard, injuries and some Sad Streaks continued to plague the Red Devils. Many outstanding efforts were seen in the loss to eventual conference champion Eastern Alamance, 13-8 and Western Alamance 22-18. For Graham 1986 was a learning experience. Ralph Halacheff and Bryan Honeycutt made fine efforts as quarterbacks. Barry Leath and Willie Bigelow had excellent seasons as receivers. Robert Tinning and Tyrone Young made great improvements as running backs. Overall it was a disappointing season, but the entire team never developed a quitter's attitude, with the efforts of the entire J V team in 1986 Graham High J V football team will continue on the right path to an excellent football program.

Evidently, David Barrett did something wrong. Watch out Coach Mach, your face could stay like that if you're not careful!

SHATTERING PREVIOUS RECORDS

The Varsity Girls Basketball team came alive when Coach Amos, after resting a year, decided to return back to coaching. The returning seniors were Becky Brickhouse, Tara Moser, Tina Borden, and Rachelle Burnette. They all worked together to make their last year the best.

The girls worked very hard this year to show us their very best ability. In a strong Christmas tournament they put out their best, each team member knew her role, which won them the tournament.

Although picked fifth in the mid state conference, the Lady Devils did much better than expected.

"The Lady Devils have lots of confidence in themselves," said Coach Amos. They were also very dedicated to practice. They all showed up six days a week, even on Saturday mornings at 8:00.

The support from the fans and cheerleaders was very appreciated. Without it the Lady Devils wouldn't have gotten as far as they did.

These girls put in many long hours of hard work and have been a dedicated team to make the 1986-'87 season a memorable year.

Our team missed the ball, but Becky made a good try. The rest of the team stands ready to go.

Hey Beckyl Oh, she's not waving, she must be blocking a pass.

Refusing to let the "Dawg" get past her, Donna Melvin whispers threats in the opponents ear. Just Kidding.

Some of the devils are ready to catch the pass, while another is ready for a rebound

Two of the players are playing the game, but two others are just playing. Put your tongues in your mouths!

MOLDING A WINNING TEAM

Basketball's the key to winning the game if you fail, if you miss, then who is to blame, if you don't know how to play get out of the way, cause the VARSITY BOYS are here to stay! Those were the feelings of a lot of the fans at the games this year and it really tells you how much spirit is found during the games

The boys this year under the direction of Coach Jim Melvin, had a fun time running down the courts to score two more points to have a winning season. Even though they didn't win every game, they seemed to win a pretty good share of them.

The hard work and dedication was shown in every game. From warm-ups to the final handshakes, the team showed their Devil pride by giving it their all

Coach Melvin and his guys did not reach their goal of winning the state champions. However, their spirit, dedication, and pride made them champs with a special spot in every Red Devil heart

The camera catches David Bell helping David Joye up, after his unsuccessful try at a rebound. There's always next time guys!

Stretching to the limit, Davi-Jones tips the ball in for two.

Was this party cake, or a basketball game? The Devils showed they were hot bakes this year.

"Where did it go?" said senior David Bell, as the other team makes a swift move against the GHS team

Preparing for an Ala-Oop, Tony Cobb gets a head start on the rest of the team, and goes up for two

"Shoot, shoot the hoop for more!" yells the crowd as sophomore Keey Wilson lets the ball go to sink two foul shots

"What do you mean we can do better?" said Denise as the girls are winning the game at the end of the third quarter

"Here we come, walking down the street, we're the funniest people you'll ever meet, Hey Hey we're the JV" sings the players as they win the game

MOLDING FOR FUTURE VICTORIES

Junior Varsity Basketball, what does it exactly mean?" JV's are a group of freshmen and sophomores out on the court showing exactly what they're made of. This year the players worked extra hard to make the team. Some players even showed up at the gym this summer to practice and get ready for the dreaded cuts that came three times before the decision is final.

Even though the season started off slow because of the loss of their starting line up from last year but they came on stronger each game to win their share this season. This although a pretty young team, has shown a lot of spirit and excitement towards winning and having fun.

JV's are coached by Kirk Chandler and the team consists of sophomores; Kelly Wilson, Hubert Parker, James Franklin, David Shotwell, Willie Bigelow, Todd Corbett, and Dwight Taylor. Freshmen are; Greg Holt, Tyrone Young, Randy Hadley, Kyle Ward, Dwayne Crisp, and Tim Neal. Managers are Freshmen Pat Nance, and Todd Barber.

All excited about winning the game against Williams, Willie Bigelow screams for joy

Trying to understand the last call, Greg Holt and his opponent look solemn Okay Willie, you can let go of the ball now! Come on now

Attempting a point or two with a free throw. Todd Corbett concentrates

The UV's may not have gotten the ball this time but that didn't stop them from winning

BREAKING BAD WITH STYLE

This was an outstanding year for the Graham High School Varsity cheerleading squad. In the summer preceding the school year the varsity cheerleaders dominated the competition at cheerleading camp. They walked away happily with seventeen blue ribbon, one red ribbon, a spirit stick every day they were there. And on the final day they won the overall competition. Their new cheerleading advisor, Kelly Grifffin May, was very proud of them.

During football season the cheerleaders raised the crowds to new heights of excitement with their new and interesting cheers. Led by their head cheerleader, Pam Foriest, the varsity cheerleaders performed time and time again to the delight of the fans.

Basketball season saw the cheerleaders improving even more. Not only with new suits, but new cheers were cheered and new games were won. The varsity cheerleader proved that you can excite the crowds without doing stunts. With the support from the fans, the cheerleader had something to cheer about.

The 1986-87 year was an outstanding year for the varsity cheerleaders and hopefully the start of great cheerleading tradition in the years to come.

BREAKING THE SOUND BARRIER

The '86-'87 J.V. cheerleading squad got off this summer after a short vacation. The squad, consisting of twelve new faces, who were excited about the future. The girls started in May to get ready for a grueling week of learning cheers, chants, and above all, about one another at Davidson College. They attended an International Cheerleading Foundation camp.

Considering how bad they wanted to improve as cheerleaders and teammates they all decided to work hard and go to camp to succeed in becoming a great squad. In order to go to camp the girls had to come up with ways of making extra money for the squad. During June, the girls had a car wash. They paid for half of everyone's way to camp. As you can see, everyone on the squad worked hard for their money.

In July the squad trekked to Davidson College for four days of meeting new people and just fun. The girls had daily evaluations on their ability and spirit. On the last day, the squad was overwhelmed by the news that they were officially the Grand Champs in Junior Varsity Division. The girls received a trophy and thirteen ribbons for daily evaluations. After winning the Grand Champs at camp, the squad was eligible to go to the National ICF Competition. Although the squad could not attend, they were still considered champs in our hearts.

The JV's are ready to 'throw down'. They were really psyched up at the Homecoming Pep Rally.

BALL BUSTERS

The playing of volleyball is an awesome task and requires a wide diversity of skills. The volleyball team was carried out by a dedicated few who gave up weekday afternoons to practice

The team captains consisted of Brandy Hanford, Rachelle Burnette, and Becky Brickhouse. Other team members were Shonda Yarbourgh, Sonya Bigelow, Renee Kimbro, Monica Burgh, Belinda Booker, Angela Sellars, Melissa Enoch, Aimee Boone

"The girls were a very good team to coach", said Ms. Perkins. They all had good attitudes and tried very hard. Even though the season did not finish as well as they wished the lady devils will live on. Ms. Perkins also quoted that "the Lady Devils were a team of the future."

This year's senior, Becky Brickhouse, won the honor of being picked as the all conference volleyball player. Honorable mention went to senior, Rachelle Burnette, and junior, Belinda Booker

With the support and hard work from the fans and players, the Lady Devils volleyball team is on the upswing.

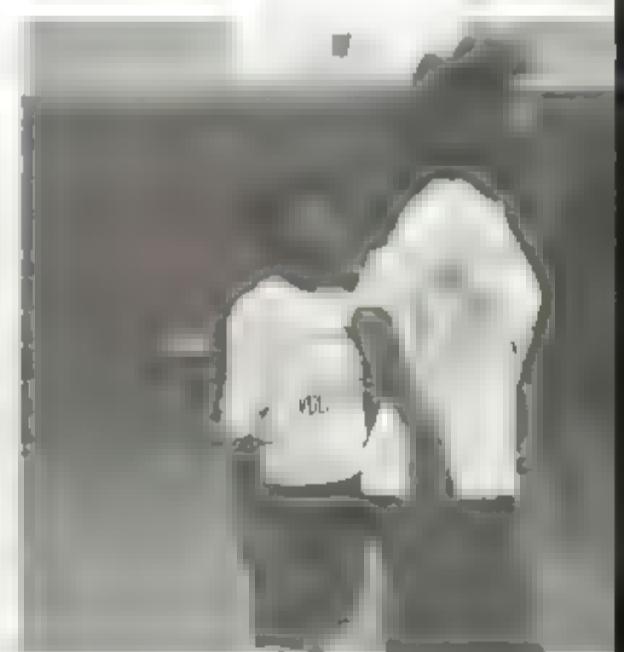

The expression on Renee Kimbro and Becky Brickhouse faces express their surprise at the other team's move. It's not that bad is it Becky?

Stretching for the ball, Renee Kimbro warms up before the game. Now that's a stretch!

FORGING A NEW PATH

The Red Devil Cross Country team had a rebuilding season. There seemed to be a great strain on the team as a whole, since a lot of the outstanding runners from the previous year had graduated. They gave it their all and put forth a commendable effort.

The team also experienced a change in coaches. Rather than last year's Mr. Grinnel leading the pack, Mr. Dismuke decided to give it a try this year.

One team member, a freshman, experienced success. Dawn McKenrick, the only female on this year's team, made the state competition.

The next few years for the Devils look promising, as this year's team consisted of mostly Freshmen and Sophomores. Their experience gained this year will hopefully lead to victory next year.

BREAK 'EM DOWN

Graham's wrestling team got off to a 3 and 0 start defeating 4-A powerhouse Durham High School twice and powerful Lee County on the road. Graham afterwards dropped two decisions to Triad 3-A powerhouse Eastern Guilford and then the other to No. 4 state voted Durham Jordan. Graham is off to the best start in 13 years and are led by Captains Brian Turner, 7 and 1 and Lonnie Thompson, 7 and 1. Freshmen sensations Billy Warren, Bryant Taylor, and Matt Brown along with Thomas May continue to shine with all possessing winning records, Sophomores Robert Tinnin, Thurman Moore, and Ralph Halachoff continue to improve giving them competition headlocks at the 138, 155, and 167 weight classes. Coming off a football knee injury Dee Hall wrestling in the tough 145lb. weight class. All of our 13 starters have more wins than losses. We won both our scrimmages and our first 3 matches and have wrestled well against tough 4-A competition defeating 3 of them. PAR FOR THE COURSE

With the arrival of a new season came new hopes and dreams for a successful record for the golf team. But lots of practice and concentration would be the main key. Determined to make a name for themselves in the Mid-State, the golf team practiced after school and in their spare time. That was what it took to have a successful year.

Coach Chuck Maynard began the season with a small task, but one that could easily be achieved, that task was a winning season. The devil golf team reached that goal with flying colors, because they always put out a winning effort.

CUTTIN' LOOSE

There are three distinct reasons why a girl or boy might want to run track. First of all, track is for the egotistic guy who wants to increase his popularity by receiving another letter to add to his collection. Track was also for a girl who wants to get a nice summer shape for fall and winter sports. Of course, one final reason for running track is for the sheer enjoyment of the sport.

The 1987 "Running Red Devil" track team had a very promising season with Rosa Perkins and Luther Turner as coaches. The team practiced every day from 3:30-5:00. The coaches pushed the track team and made them work harder than ever this year. Whether winning or losing, they kept the team in high spirits.

Much progress was made during the course of the 1987 season. With all-conference Michael Lee and Chris Stone returning, coach Turner built a strong contender. They surprised a lot of the teams with their speed and distance runners. Many freshmen and sophomores improved and gained the much needed experience for the years to come. Even the reasons for running track varied, by the close of the season the participants realized that track was for them.

The 1986 Junior Varsity baseball team was a very talented team. If one was to look at only their win-lose statistics, then the true quality of the team could not be observed. The team had a few problems, but they showed great sportsmanship through the whole year, whether they were on an up or a down. In order to realize the team's true potential, one would have to see the players and see how they play to understand that they give it their all.

A few guys are returning this year: Ralph Halachef, Spence Garrison, Dwight Taylor, Billy Ryan, and Wendon Tyson. They gained a lot of experience on last year's team, and should give this year's team a powerful boost.

On the other hand, some of last year's team are moving on to the Varsity squad. Some of these young men are: Mark Lathan, Doug Rowe, Scotty Anthony, David Joye, and Jerry Williams. These young guys among others will start the year off, as usual, with a baseball marathon. They will play from ten o'clock in the morning until around five o'clock that evening. Each player will be responsible for taking pledges from their friends and family for each inning they play. The money they raise will be used for perhaps new uniforms, or maybe just to fix up the field after all the bad weather we've had!

All in all, the JV's are looking hopefully towards having a winning season this year, but it is evident by observing their practices that they realize it takes more than hope to build a winning team.

BOUNCING BACK

The 1987 girls' softball team got off to a great start. Coach Mike Williams anticipated a great season, and he got it.

The team, with a lot of great players started practicing in February, and played their first game on March 10th against Eastern Guilford.

The girls had some returning players and some new people to play this year and Coach Williams knew this would strengthen his team and hopefully give the team a "big advantage."

The team members include: Seniors: Becky Brickhouse (1986 MVP), Robin Gardner, Elana Halacheff; Juniors: Gary Jones, Jennifer Marks, Deborah Pence; Sophomores: Andrea Earp, Jana Story, Dawn Fogelman, Tammy Barker, Edith Randolph; and Freshmen: Tracy Poteat, Shonda Yarborough, Denise Lloyd, Melodie Sykes, and Claudia Charlton.

The addition to the team was nine players and three players including: Gary Jones, Tammy Barker, and Shonda Yarborough, capable of pitching, this was the most crucial point. The outfield being the weak point in 1986 was the strong point in '87 and the coach was proud of that.

The team had three returning players, who came back for their Senior year and they are starter from '86: Elana Halacheff, Becky Brickhouse, and Robbin Gardner. Other starters who returned were: Jennifer Marks, and Gary Jones.

The team attributed a Easter Tournament at Chatam Central on April 24 for a holiday on the field. Congratulations Girls!!!

A WINNING MOLD

The 1986 Graham High School baseball team entered the season as the number one pick. The veteran laden team saw that a senior started every position except one. These seniors included Guy Rimmer who was all-conference catcher, Charlie Brooks who received Honorable Mention all-conference first baseman, Jeff Dunn was at second base, Tony McRainey was all-conference short stop, Todd McRainey was at third base, Billy

Compton played left field, and Jimmy Self played center field. The pitching staff included two seniors, who were Joel Perkins and David Stutts, and one junior, Chris Edwards, who was all-conference. The 1986 team didn't reach all of its goals that were set forth at the beginning of the year, but were able to reach most of them. They were the winners of the 1st Annual Graham High School Boosters Invitational Tournament. They achieved more wins than any other Graham High School baseball team, which included 18 wins. The team made the furthest advancement in the state playoff competition. We at Graham High School are extremely proud of the 1986 baseball team, and we wish the teams in the future the very best of luck, and hope that they will carry on the winning tradition set forth by the 1984, 1985, and 1986 baseball teams.

BREAKING A GOOD SWING

Practice makes perfect; a popular saying which well described the Red Devil tennis team. Under direction of head coach Jim Melvin, the boys proved that hard work and endurance on the court pays off.

Throughout the season the boys played in very competitive matches on their home courts and on away courts. Assets to the team were returning seniors David Bell, Chris Ray, and Ken Costner.

Keep with the traditional game of tennis, the Red Devils compiled winning records. They proved that uniqueness did not always come by breaking a tradition.

I Can't Believe It's YOGURT!

Frozen Yogurt Stores

Where'd We Get a Name Like That?

Yes, our soft-serve frozen yogurt called IC BIY Softie® really tastes like real ice cream. Unlike traditional custard-like yogurt with its tart taste, our yogurt is creamy, soft-frozen and delicious. This surprises a lot of folks. That's why everyone says "I Can't Believe It's Yogurt".

Good and Good for Ya!

ICBIY Softie® is real yogurt, with all the great natural benefits of this healthful food. In ancient writings it was called the food of the gods. And it's been credited with everything from prolonging life to banishing wrinkles from the skin.

Every high protein spoonful contains billions of friendly bacteria said to aid digestion. Just look at these facts about our ICBIY Softie®:

- 33% more protein than ice cream
- 1/2 the calories and 80% less fat than premium grade ice cream.
- High in such essential vitamins and minerals as calcium, phosphorous, vitamin B-12 and riboflavin

Love at First Bite

Only I Can't Believe It's Yogurt® has ICBIY Softie®. It's a special recipe prepared in Dallas, our home town.

- Creamy
- Fresh
- Natural
- Healthful
- Low in calories

ICBIY Softie® comes in a variety of flavors, all served in cups, cones, sundaes, shakes, take-home containers or delicious homemade waffle cones.

ICBIY Softie® is the highest quality soft-frozen yogurt we know of.

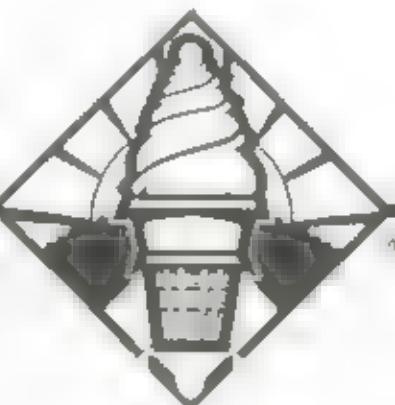

On Having Nice Days

I Can't Believe It's Yogurt® is a simple, friendly little place, where fun food is our specialty.

We have a good time serving you, and we hope you enjoy our shop. Have something creamy, delicious and fun to eat. Plus, you'll leave knowing it was good for you.

And that can be a real nice part of a real nice day.

WHERE do you find AMERICAN QUALITY? Look for the STAR.

People like the durability, the style and lasting quality of American textile and apparel products. Trouble is, sometimes it's hard to find them among all the imports.

This new star will help. It's the symbol of American quality and craftsmanship in the textile, apparel and fiber industries. Standing behind it are 2 million Americans whose jobs depend on these industries.

That includes Burlington employees in your own community — people who are proud of their quality work.

Look for the new star that means, "Crafted with Pride in America." It's just a choice to compare before you buy.

So long as you have a choice, we're confident American-made textiles and apparel will win.

With many thanks to you for your kindness in giving me a copy of your new book, I will add my thanks to those of the other members of the National Council of Teachers of English who have read your book.

With much pleasure
I enclose a copy of my book "The English Language in the Classroom" which I hope you will like.

Spanky-Spanky-Spanky.
I've really enjoyed getting to know you. You're been a hib! I wish you all the luck in the world! You've got a lot of potential and I hope you'll put it to good use.
Thanks for being a fun 1:1!

Good Luck.
Happy

Beth,

I enjoyed getting to know you this year.
You're a real nice girl and very sweet. I had a great time training out in geometry with you.
It was great. I'll miss you.

Spanky-Spanky

I've been 18 long dogs. A white back

I remember stepping into the same police car with you.

Goodbye and Todd H. Lissner

Spanky,
Good Luck and I Always strive to do the best and succeed with Take care of the rest.
Have a great summer
and always remember to smell the coffee

When I first Met you I thought you were a nice
kid, but I know now that you true colors are
You vicious arogant, ^{quit} head
Good Luck

Beth,
I'll tell you something.
You are a special person with a kindness that everyone should have.
If you ever need anything Beth just let me know and I'll do everything
I possibly can.

Class of '88
is great Thanks for being (that's us) a good friend.
Tracy '87 loves Good luck in all things your dreams & wishes

Love ya,
Tracy

Butch,
It has been fun
being out with you this year. We usually traveled out. Especially at the beginning of the year with Stephen.
We take care of ourselves and keep in touch! See ya
next year.

It has been a pleasure knowing you and having you around. I know that you have the ability to be who you want to be.
Take care,
Jim

It has been fun
being an aide with you this year. We really tripped out. Especially at the beginning of the year with Stephen.
We take care of yourself and keep in touch! See ya
next year.

Have a happy summer.

Spanky,
thanks for all your help.

Beth-Spanky,

I'm kind of bad with signing these things, so bear with me. I want you to know that you're a great person, and I'm proud to know you. I hope next year (when you're a big bad Senior) that I can get to know you better. Well, that's all for now, and remember you can call me if you want whenever you need somebody to talk to (206-481-1212). Have a fantastic summer, take it easy.

See ya next year!

Lora

"Spanky"

I really enjoyed having you around this summer,
it took a lot of time.

Bilk-alya,

I hope you remember me when the celtics draft you as the 1st women pro-basketball player.
I also hope you always remember our friendship and maybe when things are real good (financially) you will remember me and give me a dollar or two.

Look on the bright side it's not as bad as

I've known you forever.
I mean since elementary school. And you are a trip. I haven't missed
you this year when you were out. Ask them days
